Mr. Funk was the son of John Funk, who owned a large tract of land near Waynesboro along the old pike that was used many years ago by teamsters hauling goods from Philadelphia to Baltimore, and he, too, was engaged in the freighting business and hauled goods to and from Baltimore, and his son (Benjamin) drove one of the teams for him.

ARE SURE GANG IS ORGANIZED

Burglaries in Gettysburg Exactly Similar to those in Nearby Districts. Robbers Traced into this Section from Maryland.

That the gang of thieves, which operated in Gettysburg Sunday night and robbed two stores, is the same one that has been making large hauls in Maryland towns is the confident belief of those who are following the case here.

Several weeks ago the large Sincell clothing store in Oakland, Maryland, was burglarized and about $800 worth of clothing was taken. Entrance was gained through two doors and a window, and the thieves took the time to try on several shirts to see whether or not they were the proper size. They took eight suit cases, and articles which they had gathered for removal but could not place in the suit cases they left behind, in just the same way as the rifles were abandoned at the Department Store Monday morning.

For several weeks one man has been under the surveillance of Maryland detectives and he was traced from Oakland to Hagerstown, from there to York, and from there to Hanover, where the trail was lost. Robberies in other towns in this section have all been accomplished in much the same way, the same general character of goods being taken, so far as size and convenience of handling are concerned, and the getaway in every instance has been a complete success.

The Maryland detectives believe that one man, whom they know perfectly well, is at the head of five or six subordinates; that this one man lays the plans and superintends the work, and that his pals carry out his general idea of operations. Though they know the man so well he works fast and moves from one place to another so skillfully that, as yet, they have been unable to catch him in the act.

He is also known as a successful pickpocket and is said to have followed his profession most successfully at fairs in this and nearby states.

So far as is known now, no clue was left as to the route followed after the gang left Gettysburg early Monday morning. It was reported during the day that Hartzell's Cafe had been entered Sunday night, also, but there seems to be some doubt about it. Five dollars were missing from the cash register, some of the employees about the place thought, while others said that no money was left there when the place closed Saturday night. There was no evidence, either, of any forcible entry having been made.

FOUND MANGLED BODY ON TRACKS

Unidentified Man is Found by Freight Crew Arriving here at Noon. Intoxicated Tramp Nearly Fails to Give Any Facts.

With the skull crushed and the features disfigured so that identification was impossible, the dead body of a man was found this morning near White Hill by the crew of the Reading freight train due in Gettysburg about noon.

It is supposed that he had been dead for several hours when Adam Seibert, engineer of the train, saw the body lying at the side of the track. He stopped and ran back to the spot but found that nothing could be done and after making the usual report to the railroad proceeded on his way toward Gettysburg, leaving the body there for examination by the coroner.

There was no way to identify the man and it is supposed that he was starting out to tramp it along the tracks when he was struck by a train some time before dawn. The only person who might have thrown some light on the case was another tramp who was found in a nearby woods, so intoxicated that he could not tell anything about the other fellow.

The body lay along the tracks for some hours until it was finally removed and prepared for burial. The expense of the interment will be borne by Cumberland County unless some one should appear to identify the unfortunate man and claim his body.

FOR FARMERS' WORK

Important Conferences to Be Held by Officials Next Week.

Agricultural advancement in Pennsylvania will receive considerable attention at State College next week, when Governor Brumbaugh, Secretary of Agriculture Patton, the members of the Commission of Agriculture and the various division and bureau chiefs will gather for Pennsylvania day. By that time it is expected that the Governor will outline in detail some of his plans for the building up of the Department of Agriculture and the relation between the improvement of the roads and the increase of the food supply will be discussed.

Secretary Patton, who has been working on plans connected with the reorganization of the department of which he took charge last week, has been making a personal inquiry into everything connected with the various offices so that he will be thorough master of the details. Until that is finished he will not make any announcements. It is believed this week the first moves will be made.

DIRECTORS MEET

Prepare for Annual Canvass of the Town in Near Future.

A meeting of the directors of the Civic Nurse Association was held Monday evening at the home of Miss Annie Horner, Chambersburg street, when plans were laid for the annual canvass for funds. All contributions will be acceptable but it is desired that as many as possible become members of the association by contributing not less than $1.00 per year. The canvass will be in charge of the finance committee, of which Dr. L. A. Parsons is the chairman, and others will be asked to assist in the work. The former committees were reappointed with several additions and other routine business was transacted.

START WORK

Prepare to Lay Twelve Inch Water
Main on Chambersburg Street.

Employees of the Gettysburg Water Company started this morning to dig the ditch for the new main which is to be laid from the middle of Centre Square, on Chambersburg street past the intersection with Washington street. The main will have a twelve inch pipe and is being laid now so as not to interfere with the street paving in the spring. Property holders will, it is expected, see that their service pipes are also in first class condition so that there will be no need in the near future to dig up the streets to replace those smaller pipes.

TO BAR SOME OF THE DEER CAMPS

Those about Caledonia will not be Occupied this Year if they are on Land Forming Part of Watershed.
Others not Affected.

Forester R. G. Conklin has been advised by Health Commissioner Dixon to cancel any permits that have been granted for hunting camp sites in the watershed of the Chambersburg water supply and to refuse other further requests. This is for the avoidance of the probability of any contamination by typhoid or other dangerous germs.

Included in this scope of territory are twelve camping sites which have been more or less used for several years past. This means the practical abandonment of these sites at least temporarily. Of these twelve sites two are not on state ground, the Locked Antlers and the one near Irvin's mill and come under the direct jurisdiction of the state health commission. Two others, the Fayetteville camp along Birch Run and the Still House Run camp near Mineral Spring have been leased from the State Forestry Department for a term of ten years. The Still House site has been rented by Howard Terhune, of the Chambersburg Engineering company, on which he recently erected a small summer cottage.

Last year sites were occupied by five camping parties: Social Island, Wolf, Fayetteville, Clay Spring and Still House.

These grounds were recently visited by Forester Conklin and Inspector Edward Falter, of the Health Department, who found that they had been operated by their latest occupants in accordance with the rigid sanitary restrictions exacted by the State Board of Health. The other camps on the Caledonia, Pine Grove and Mont Alto reserves are not affected by this order.

Forester Conklin has not as yet been advised as to Commissioner Dixon's purposes with regard to the five camp sites located on the shed of the Shippensburg water supply.

This order does not affect persons remaining for a time less than a day and not over night. Such are not regarded as campers and are not required to procure camping permits.

That the deer hunters who will invade the Caledonia section on November 15, will have an easy slaughter is shown by the number of deer seen there these days. Dr. J. J. Eckel, Dr. H. M. Miley and G. E. Gilbert, all of Chambersburg, when motoring to Mont Alto Sanatorium saw 35 deer in the South Mountain. There were 17 in one herd.

RAN INTO FENCE

Did it to Avoid being Struck by Another Car.

In order to prevent a head-on collision with another automobile, said to have been traveling at a high rate of speed, Harry Wallick, of York, drove his car over an embankment below Abbotstown. In the car with Mr. Wallick were his wife and a party of friends. He noticed the other automobile approaching him, and turned aside to give it the road. Seeing that a collision was about to occur Mr. Wallick sent his machine down the embankment and struck a wire fence. The automobile was slightly damaged. The other car, it is said, continued on its way without stopping to ascertain if the occupants of the Wallick car had escaped injury.

ODD ACCIDENT HAS FATAL END

Woman, who Lost Four Fingers when Sheet Metal Struck her, Dies at her Home from Shock and Internal Injuries.

From injuries sustained when she was struck by a heavy roll of sheet metal which fell from the roof of her home, in Abbotstown, Miss Sarah Flickinger died on Monday evening about ten o'clock. The accident occurred during the morning.

Miss Flickinger was picking up wooden shingles thrown to the ground from the old roof, which was to be replaced with sheet metal, when a large roll of the material fell to the ground and cut off four fingers from one of her hands. She was thrown down heavily. Several physicians summoned found that in addition to the injury to her hand, two ribs were broken and that she was suffering severely from shock. In spite of their efforts she died late in the evening.

Miss Flickinger lived with her half brother, Edward Steffan. She was aged 79 years, 4 months and 9 days. Lester Bowers, of this place, is a nephew.

The funeral will be held on Thursday morning, meeting at the house at ten o'clock. Services in the Reformed church, Abbotstown, Rev. Walter Garrett officiating.

Some weeks ago Mrs. Henry Muselman, 149 East Middle street, pruned her grape vines and, to keep them from "bleeding", placed a potato on the end of each vine cut. She was much surprised on Monday, upon looking at the vines, to find that the potatoes had sprouted and on each one there were from six to ten little growths that looked like a cross between a potato and a grape. They are each about an inch long and are now bearing leaves.

FRENCH AND SERBS DEFEAT BULGARS

Foe's Land.

STRUMNITZA IS EVACUATED

Dedeagatch in Flames From Shells of Allies' Warships—At Least 1200
Persons Killed.

London, Oct. 26.—French and Serbian troops, uniting forces, have crushed the Bulgarian left wing and invaded Strumnitza in pursuit of the flying forces of Czar Ferdinand.

The allied troops took the Bulgarian town of Rabrovo, and then moved on Strumnitza, which is reported to have been evacuated at their approach.

Offsetting these allied successes is the reported capture by the Bulgarian forces of Uskub, around which, however, a battle is still raging.

Athens advices report Premier Pashich, of Serbia, as wiring to the Serbian legation there:

"While grave, the situation in Serbia is by no means critical."

The French and Serbian forces formed a junction at Krivolak, on the Salonika-Nish railway, and immediately attacked the Bulgarians on the Gradak-Volandovo front, in southeastern Serbia. The Bulgarian forces consisted of three divisions (a division is 12,000 men).

The fight, although furious, immediately developed the inferiority of the Bulgarians in contact with the experienced troops of the allies. Heavy losses are reported along the entire line. The Bulgarians withdrew up the Gradskar valley, leaving the French in victorious possession of the railway from Salonika to Negotin.

The French losses were slight, amounting to thirty-one killed and 252 wounded. General Serrail, the French commander-in-chief, characterized the Bulgarian reports of their advances as fantastic. Nowhere, he said, have they advanced beyond a few undefended points of no military value close to the frontier.

Advices from Athens say that fires set by shells buried into Dedeagatch by the allies' fleet on Friday and Saturday are still raging there after destroying a large part of the Bulgarian port.

More than 300 Bulgarian soldiers are said to have been burned to death when their barracks on the outskirts of Dedeagatch were destroyed by the first five shells by the English warships. The ruins caught fire.

The bombardment deprived the Bulgarian army of great stores of food which had been gathered at Dedeagatch. Seven cereal warehouses were completely destroyed by the allies' shells.

In addition, the fleet wrecked the custom house, quarters of the Bulgarian sailors near the docks and several lighters and barges. At least 1200 persons, most of them sailors, were killed.

The entire loss from the bombardment, it is said, will amount to several million pounds.

Porto Lagos, on the Aegean coast, was also under heavy fire from eight warships on Thursday, and Friday the port was also bombarded from aeroplanes.

French Make Big Gains

London, Oct. 26.—An important success by the French troops in the Champagne district is announced by the French war office.

In spite of a fierce resistance, French troops, following a preparatory artillery fire, occupied an important position known as "La Courtine." The losses of the Germans are described as serious, and the French took 200 prisoners.

The German official statement declares that after a heavy preparatory artillery bombardment French attacks near Tahure and north of Le Mesnil were repulsed with heavy losses.

German Officer Returns to Norfolk

Washington, Oct. 26.—Dr. W. H. Schler, who had been reported as escaped from the interned German cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm, at Norfolk, reported there, according to advices to the navy department. Dr. Schler had obtained a leave of absence to visit Johns Hopkins hospital, at Baltimore, and he said word recalling him was not delivered. This leaves five of the interned German officers missing.

Italy's King Flies at Front

Rome, Oct. 26.—King Victor Emanuel made a flight of fifty miles along the Isonzo frontier in a military aeroplane, visiting the chief positions captured from the Austrians and personally congratulating the troops. The aeroplane was fired upon five times by the Austrian gunners, but the pilot of the machine, one of the most skillful in the army, kept it out of range of the shells.

AIR RAID ON VENICE WRECKS CHURCH ART

Bombs Do Damage in Various Parts of City.

Rome, Oct. 26.—Three air attacks were made on Venice by Austrian aeroplanes, it was officially announced.

A shell struck the Chiesa Degli Scalzi, destroying the church ceiling, with its large fresco by Giovanni Battista Tiepolo. Incendiary and explosive bombs were dropped, one of them falling in the Piazza of St. Mark. Various parts of the city were damaged. The text of the official statement follows:

"Enemy aeroplanes made three attacks against Venice, dropping incendiary and explosive bombs. One struck the Chiesa Degli Scalzi, destroying the ceiling, with its painting by Tiepolo. Another incendiary bomb fell in the Piazza of St. Mark, but did not do any damage.

"Other bombs struck various parts of the city, with slight damage."

CLOSE IN ON DVINSK

Germans Are Only Nine Miles From Dvina River Stronghold.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—German troops are only nine miles from Dvinsk, the important Russian city on the Dvina river, against which they have been driving for months.

From Ilonka, the capture of which by the Germans was announced, heavy howitzers are being moved into position to bombard the Russian forts defending Dvinsk. The fall of Dvinsk is believed to be imminent.

Heavy fighting is still in progress for possession of the Baltic port of Riga. The official report mentions no further progress for the Germans, and indicates that the Russians are now on the offensive on one part of the Riga front.

From three sides the Russian positions defending Dvinsk are being raked by a terrific artillery fire. Every grade of guns from 12-inch howitzers down is being used. Guns from the Austrian army, which were used to batter down the defenses of Ivanogorod and Novogeorgievsk, are now being used against the fortress of Dvinsk.

ITALIANS BREAK FOE'S LINE

Press Forward After Shattering Defences Along Whole Front.

Rome, Oct. 26.—Italian troops in their great offensive now in progress, have shattered the Austrian's first line defenses in nearly every sector along the entire battle front and are now attacking the second line with marked success.

At several points even the second line has been pierced.

Victory in the Isonzo campaign seems especially near. Staff officers who have returned from field headquarters report that Gorz, the great fortress, the key to Trieste, has actually fallen, but there is no official confirmation of this, both the Italian and Austrian war office reports implying the contrary.

CONFESSES PLOT TO SINK SHIPS

Germans Sent Army Man to Blow Up Munition Vessels.

THREE ARE UNDER ARREST

Were Sent Here by Berlin Foreign Office, But Were Turned Down by Embassy in Washington.

New York, Oct. 26.—Robert Fay, a lieutenant of the sixteenth Saxony Infantry, who was arrested near Grantwood, N. J., admitted that he came here last April, through an arrangement with the German secret service, to blow up or delay steamships sailing from this country with arms and ammunition for the allies.

Fay said that while here he had acted independently of the German embassy or other German agents in this country. He said he had told Captain von Papen, military attaché, and Captain K. Boy-Ed, naval attaché of the embassy, of his plans, but said both told him not to interfere with ships sailing from American ports or American ammunition plants.

Fay and his brother-in-law, Walter L. Scholz, who was arrested with him, were arraigned at Weehawken, on charges of conspiracy, and were held without bail for an examination. The arrests were made by New York and New Jersey detectives, while the men were experimenting with explosives. Paul Daech, of Jersey City, who was arrested at his home, was arraigned with Fay and Scholz. He was charged with conspiracy and held without bail. Detectives said Daech had given them much valuable information, and they expected him to be an important witness in the case.

Fay said he and Scholz had conducted a large number of experiments with his mine device along the Hudson river, but that Daech was in no way implicated. He denied his father had been an Englishman. He said he was well supplied with money when he arrived here, and therefore was able to act on his own responsibility.

Fay explained how he planned to attach mines carrying his device to the sterns of ammunition laden vessels sailing from New York. By properly arranging the device he calculated the mine would be exploded when the ship was about half a day out. He declined to say whether he had attempted to attach mines to ships in this harbor, but said he had not attached loaded mines to any vessels.

PASTOR AND WIFE KILLED

Two Children Hurt When Train Runs
Down Auto.

New Castle, Pa., Oct. 26.—Rev. M. D. Telford and his wife were killed and their two children, Mary and Donald, thirteen and nine years old, respectively, were injured seriously when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a fast train on the Western Allegheny railroad near Payne Station.

The Telfords were on their way home to Hartstown, Pa., after attending a religious meeting in which Mr. Telford, who was a United Presbyterian minister, had taken part. The children were brought to a hospital here where physicians said they probably would die.

MANY LOST ON CRUISER

Berlin Admits Loss of Warship and Few Saved.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—Only a small part of the crew of the German cruiser Prinz Adalbert, sunk by a British submarine in the Baltic, was rescued. This was made known in the following official statement:

"A telegram from the naval general staff, dated October 23, states that the cruiser Prinz Adalbert was sunk by two shots from an enemy submarine off Libau. Unfortunately only a small portion of the crew could be rescued."

Student Killed Hunting Turkeys

State College, Pa., Oct. 26.—Richard Hoy, nineteen years old, a student at State college, accidentally shot and killed himself while hunting wild turkeys on Nittany mountain with Theodore Williams, another State college boy. Hoy's shotgun exploded when he rested it on the ground. The discharge blew off part of his head.

CHARLTON GUILTY, WILL SOON BE FREE

Gets 6 Years, 5 Months, But Must Serve Only One Month.

Como, Italy, Oct. 26.—Porter Charlton was found guilty of murdering his wife, Mary Scott Charlton.

After the verdict was given, the prosecutor asked for a sentence of seven years and six months, but the presiding judge gave the young American a term of six years and five months.

Charlton has been in jail five years and four months, but will have to serve only one more month before he gets his freedom because of an allowance of one year in prison terms was made to all prisoners by royal decree at the beginning of the war.

The crown prosecutor, Signor Mellini, delivered his argument to the jury. Signor Mellini denied that Charlton was mentally irresponsible, even momentarily, at the time the deed was committed.

The prosecutor said Charlton had no provocation for killing his wife and insinuated he married her for her savings and that he had appropriated her jewels after killing her.

Speaking in defense of Charlton, his attorney maintained that the prisoner was an epileptic and that he was totally irresponsible when the crime was committed. He urged the jury to give its assent to the claim that the defendant was not more than partly responsible and that there was great provocation.

Hein was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for commissioner. He is as much surprised as the prohibitionists to find himself their nominee.

It was not until Monday, after the ballots partly were printed, that Hein's candidacy became known.

Subborn EczemaHealed By Amolox

We are daily receiving letters of praise from people who have been cured by Amolox. Many of them tell how, for years they have tried different remedies and doctors in the vain effort to find relief. Some become discouraged and lose all hope of ever being cured. E. R. Frisbee, 187 Sycamore St., Mansfield, O., writes: "Our baby's face was covered with eczema scales, sores and scabs. She was a pitiable sight. We tried everything. Took her to Pittsburgh doctors but were unable to find any relief until we used Amolox. It cured her within a short time."

Amolox ointment will quickly heal pimples on the face, red nose, and minor skin troubles. Chronic cases of dry or moist scaly eczema require both the ointment and liquid to effect a cure. At all drug stores. Trial size, 50c. Recommended and guaranteed by The People's Drug Store.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARDPASTRY DE LUXE.

WALNUT MARGUERITES.—Beat two eggs slightly and add one cupful of brown sugar, one-half cupful of flour, one-third teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter teaspoonful of baking powder and one cupful of chopped English walnut meats. Fill small buttered tins two-thirds full of mixture and place a nut meat on each. Bake in moderate oven fifteen minutes. This recipe should make eighteen little cakes.

Rich Bride Cake.—Take four pounds sifted flour, four pounds of sweet, fresh butter, beaten to a cream and two pounds of white powdered sugar. Take six eggs for each pound of flour, an ounce of ground nutmeg or nutmeg and a tablespoonful of lemon extract or orange flower water. A very pretty way in which to present pieces of this cake to your guests is to cut out each piece in the shape of a heart and put on each separate piece the initial, in frosting, of each guest to whom the cake is to be given. Present the cake in either pink, gilt edged, heart shaped boxes, or, if you cannot go to the expense of having the boxes made, wrap the pieces in frilled tissue paper, tied with dainty pink silk baby ribbon.

Pumpkin Pies.—Three cupfuls sifted pumpkins, three eggs, one large cupful of sugar, salt, a little cinnamon and ginger, one quart scalding milk, poured into last. Strain pumpkins dry and then put in a little molasses and stew about twenty minutes longer. Be careful that it does not burn. Makes two large or three small pies.

Waffles With Lemon Sauce.—One pint of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, three eggs, one and one-quarter cupfuls of milk, one tablespoonful of melted butter. Mix in the order given. Add the beaten yolks of the eggs with the milk, then the melted butter and the whites last. Serve with butter, sirup or cranberry sauce.

Lemon Syrup.—One cupful of sugar, one-quarter cupful of water, one teaspoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Boil the sugar with the water until it thickens slightly, add the butter and lemon juice and serve as soon as butter is melted.

Peanut Cookies.—One egg beaten till light, one-half cupful sugar, one cupful chopped peanuts, two tablespoonfuls melted butter, two tablespoonfuls sweet milk, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, one-half teaspoonful salt and one and one-quarter cupfuls of flour. Drop on tins.

Medical Advertising First Dose Ends Indigestion, Heartburn, or Gas on Stomach.

People with weak stomachs should take Tonaline Tablets occasionally, and here will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, sour risings, gas on the tongue, or belching of undigested food, headaches, dizziness or sick stomach; besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved five minutes after taking Tonaline Tablets.

Go to your druggist and get a box of Tonaline Tablets and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. Tonaline tablets freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

For women who can never appear stylish in anything they wear because of their thinness this remarkable treatment may prove a revelation. It is a beauty maker as well as a form builder and nerve strengthener.

Tonaline Tablets cost $1.00 for a 15 days' treatment. At druggists or mailed by American Proprietary Co., Boston, Mass.

The Eye of the Army

Oh, I clamber up high to the vault of the sky,
Far above all the muck of the trenches;
Far above the quick ire of the maxim gunfire,
Far above all the reek and the stench of the fox,
Where a puff from below in the lines of the foe,
Where a gunner is seeking to harm me,
But I drop and I rise from his bombs in the skies—
And I still am the eye of the army!

For it's my job to learn every sally and turn
Of the enemy right when they make it,
I'm a sentry whose care is a post high in air,
So I duck and I dip and I dodge and I skip
From the aeroplane shells that would maim me,
While the gunner with zest does his Sunday school best
To put out the eye of the army.

Now, there isn't much chance for the ancient romance
In these days of mechanical slaughter,
When we shed human blood in a horrible flood,
On the face of the land and the water,
But I am not bound by the soldiers' dull round,
For in war's mighty drama they starve me,
And it's still a great game full of glory and fame—
To the venturesome eye of the army!

Pain's Ointment Uric Acid Poison

Pay Attention to Pains—Most People Have Rheumatism and Don't Know It.

Ouch! Does it hurt to move your arms, legs, bend your back or stretch your muscles? Be careful and take heed in time. Rheumatism is stealing on you and may cripple you if you don't stop uric acid from settling in your veins and muscles.

Rheuma, a great specialist's prescription, chases this poison out of the system and gives relief to all victims of Rheumatism. It works directly on the formation of uric acid, then drives out through the bowels that which is in the blood.

Genuine Rheuma (see that you get the trade-marked package) is sold by The People's Drug Store and all drug-stores for 50 cents. Money back if not satisfied.

15 DEAD IN FACTORY FIRE

Flames Cut Off Escape by All Exits.

ONE KILLED IN LEAP

Many Were Injured Jumping From Windows, While Others Were Saved by Firemen.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 26.—Fifteen persons were killed and eight injured by a fire in a four-story building, the two upper floors of which were occupied by the Union Paper Box company, on the North Side.

Of the dead, all were young women, employed by the company except one. Many of the bodies were burned so greatly as to make identification difficult.

Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong at once ordered that the police, city council and the coroner make thorough investigation of the fire.

The fire started in a pile of straw in the feed store of James Brown & company, on the first floor of the building, and burned so fiercely that escape by means of the stairways and fire escapes was cut off. A number of girls were caught as they jumped from the building, but many of them were injured. Twenty-six girls and six men were employed in the factory.

Minnie Bittner, one of the girls who jumped from the burning building, died while on the way to the hospital. Loretta Link, Margaret Kinsler, Kate Bittner, Gertrude Neldt, Mollie Arnold and Margaret Steigerwald were taken to hospitals suffering from burns and broken limbs. The driver of a fire engine on its way to the fire was crushed when the engine overturned and it is feared he will die. Another fireman was overcome by smoke and is in a critical condition.

When the firemen penetrated to the girls' dressing room in the factory where they found three bodies on the floor. The girls had been suffocated. One of them was identified by her brother as Cecilia Jose, as the body was taken into the street.

A few minutes later, three more bodies were found, two of them burned badly, but the other was said by persons living in the neighborhood to be Florence Becker, who obtained work in the factory only a day or two ago.

Joseph L. Bash, employed as salesman by a stove company on the second floor of the building, saw flames shooting up the elevator shaft. Running to a window, to give the alarm, he noticed a number of girls from the box factory leaning out of an upper window. Calling on them to jump, he caught one after the other, lowering them to the ground until eight were safe.

A. J. Seagle, another stove salesman, did the same thing at another window and aided a number to safety, while Henry Schraeder, of Cleveland, drove a wagon to the rear of the building and caught others as they jumped.

Margaret Steigerwald, age seven, who was injured by jumping from a third-floor window, said she and five other girls were trapped in the building when somebody closed a door at the head of the stairway on the second floor.

CONFESSES MURDER PLOT

Forney Pleads Guilty to Attack on Father-in-Law.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 26.—Thomas G. Forney, indicted in connection with an attack upon his father-in-law, T. Franklin Schneider, of Washington, a millionaire candy manufacturer, in a hotel here last June, pleaded guilty to felonious assault and battery and conspiracy and made no defense to a charge of entering a building to commit a felony.

George McHenry, another of the alleged conspirators, has pleaded guilty and is in jail awaiting final disposition of the other prisoners.

According to McHenry, Schneider was struck over the head with a hammer as he was emerging from his room in the hotel. McHenry admitted that he had struck the victim with the hammer, but said that he had been employed to commit the deed by a Forney, a son-in-law of Mr. Schneider, whose motive, it is believed, was to get possession by inheritance of his father-in-law's wealth.

Mrs. George F. Baer Buried
Reading, Oct. 26.—Many financiers and railroad men, including E. T. Stotesbury and Theodore Voorhees, presidents of the Reading company and the Reading Railway company, respectively, attended the funeral of Mrs. Emily K. Baer, widow of George F. Baer, former president of the Reading railway.

Killed Between Cars
Mahanoy City, Oct. 26.—Michael Carr, employed as watchman on the Lehigh Valley railroad at Yatesville, was mutilated beyond recognition when a train of thirty cars and two of the largest type engines passed over his body. He fell between the cars attempting to board the train for a bucket of coal.

Few Killed by Lightning.
Fewer than one person in every 300,000 in Great Britain is killed by lightning.

SUSPEND COLLEGE STUDENTS

Eight Must Face Muhlenberg Faculty on Charges of Hazing.

Allentown, Oct. 26.—Dr. Haas, president of Muhlenberg college, announced in chapel, that, on charges of hazing, Ben Hubbard, Russell Gaston, Frank Day, George Brubaker, "Butch" Grembach, Homer Everett, Al Durschner and Lewis Hayes would be suspended until Thursday afternoon, when they are to appear before the faculty for a hearing.

The students were given six hours to leave the campus, and in the meantime will not be permitted to take part in college activities. They are charged with having doused several seniors with water.

Dr. Haas also announced that Frank Corber, William Taylor, Waldemar Gallenamp, Fred Woringer and Edwin Hartzell were suspended and would appear before the faculty, on Thursday, for a hearing on a charge of disorder in the dining room at the college refectory.

CHILDREN 'BADLY BITTEN BY RATS

Rodents Invade Bed Room of Youngsters.

Burlington, N. J., Oct. 26.—Three children of Captain and Mrs. Frederick Goddard, in charge of Salvation Army work in Burlington, were badly bitten by rats that gnawed through the floor of their bedroom at the local barracks and attacked them while they slept.

Awakened by their screams, Captain Goddard and his wife found the children in bloody night dresses. Several large rats jumped from the beds and disappeared through the floor. Frederick, aged eleven, was badly bitten on the feet. Gladys, aged eight, was bitten on the neck and fingers, and Myrtle, aged five, on the arms.

The army barracks is an old building, on Union near High street, adjacent to several stables.

ASYLUM FOR VILLA IN U. S.

Mexican Leader Would Be Safe in This Country.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Secretary of State Lansing denied that George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department, was conducting negotiations as peace-maker between General Villa and General Carranza, promising asylum in the United States to Villa if he would lay down his arms. A report to this effect had been received from El Paso.

Mr. Carothers several days ago was instructed to make no further representations to General Villa. The report is believed to have had its origin in efforts of several Villa generals to have Villa come to the United States, so that terms of amnesty may be arranged for his troops.

Villa generals have pointed out that the single obstacle to such a course is a fear by Villa that he would be prosecuted while in American territory. Officials say such fears are unfounded and that asylum would be given to Villa, along with the other political refugees now in the United States.

Shoots Himself as Wife Takes Lunch
Lakewood, N. J., Oct. 26.—While preparing lunch for him in one room and Miss Margaret Laufer, her sister, was dressing in another, William Stillwell, forty-five years old, a business man, fired a bullet through his head at his home. Physicians said he could not live.

Colonel Bunker

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"You have asked me, sub," began Colonel Bunker, "which was the strangest duel I ever fought. Of the fifteen or twenty I think that two might come under the head of strange."

"Majah Blazer and I were friends and neighbors and had been for years. Not a word of discord had ever passed between us. He had a cat and I had a dog, and they were also friends."

"One morning the majah came into my office and called out:

"Colonel, tell your dawg that if he will come over he may have a look at them."

"What is it, majah?"

"Our old cat has kittens."

"You don't say! How many of them?"

"Just twenty-one, sub."

"You counted them yourself. Did you?"

"Colonel, do you question my statement?"

"Not at all, major; but twenty-one kittens in a litter is certainly a wonderful thing."

"It may be, sub, and—good morning, sub!"

"And, sub, it wasn't an hour before he sent a friend to me to arrange a duel. I had seemed to doubt his veracity, and he must clear his honor. I agree with you that it was silly, but men were mighty peppy in those days. The majah's wife came and begged that I refuse the challenge, but at the same time she couldn't show me how I could do it and maintain my honor. I asked her the number of kittens and was not at all surprised to learn that the number was only four."

"The explanation was that the majah's wife had been cunning strawberies, and in speaking of it to him she gave the number of the cats as twenty-one."

"Well, sub, the choice of weapon lay with me, and I chose swords. A week before that while out for a walk I crossed the dueling ground, and I observed that close by in a fence corner was a bumblebee's nest. We were to meet at sunrise, which is a very uncomfortable hour, by the bye, and the night before I had a confidential talk with a colored brother."

"The night passed, and the morning came. I was first on the ground, and I had time to see that the colored brother was up in the part he was to play. On my word, the majah knew no more about sword play than a Laplander. I could have had him out in one minute, but I did not want that. I gave the colored brother the nod, and he stirred up the bees through the fence with a pole. They came out of the grass by the hundred, and I alone saw them in time to get away."

"But the bees, sub—the bees! Those men left behind were a sight to see when the insects got through with them. All of them had to be led home and not one of them got out of the house for a fortnight. As for the majah, when he could get out he came to the office to say:

"Colonel, I have bad news for your dawg."

"What is it?"

"Every kitten is dead."

"Sho! That's too bad."

"And the shelf fell down and broke all the fruit jars."

"Too bad, too bad."

"And you take notice, sub, we didn't get the kittens and the jars mixed up."

At this juncture Colonel Bunker remarked that he would tell the story of another duel.

"Captain Seaton was my good friend and had been for years. One evening as we sat on the veranda of his house, smoking our pipes and saying little, he carelessly observed:

"It's a wonder those grasshoppers can keep that noise up the way they do."

"You mean crickets, captain," I corrected.

"I mean what I mean," he snapped.

"Well, there we were," said the colonel—"there we were. It made no difference whatever to either one of us whether it was a cricket, a grasshopper or an owl singing, but there are times when the best of men are attacked by what may be called a fool perversity. We talked for five minutes, and then I said:

"Captain, the songs of those crickets are not so unpleasant after all."

"You mean the songs of those grasshoppers," sub, he replied.

"Crickets!"

"Grasshoppers!"

"Colonel Bunker, my friend will wait on you and arrange."

"The sooner the better, sub."

"And within an hour his friend came, and a duel was arranged for sunrise."

"You may say we were a couple of idiots, sub, but in those days a man's honor was held to be a sacred thing. If I was out walking with a gentleman and remarked that there was a ring around the moon and he replied that he couldn't see it, honor required that I send him a challenge."

"And, sub, perhaps there was neither moon nor ring showing!"

"We were on the field and the distance was being paced off when a bull-dog got after a drove of mules out at pasture, and the mules got after us. All hands were driven up trees, and as we stood fifteen feet high one of the seconds called out:

"Gentlemen, I don't think it is either crickets or grasshoppers."

"Then what?"

"Tree toads!"

"And we descended and shook hands, and the duel was off, sub—and the duel was off!"

Candidate For County Auditor

Finding it impossible to see all the voters takes this way to ask their kind consideration; that they will give him their support and votes at the coming election. R. D. Myers has had Commercial training and experience in public accounts, which qualifies him to make a competent and reliable County Auditor, and if elected, he will see that the people get a square deal when auditing our County Accounts.

Vote-For-Myers, he deserves the support of the voters regardless of party affiliations.
